

MEET THE TEACHER!

Preschool

Emily Jarvis, Lead Teacher

Hello, I'm Emily Jarvis. I have been teaching preschool for four years. I started teaching in High School. The vocational school I attended allowed me to start teaching right away. I graduated from school in 2016.

I have been with Kids First Academy since the summer of 2017. I started off helping in the toddler room, then became the lead teacher in preschool. Before coming here, I worked at another center teaching older toddlers. Throughout High School and even after graduating, I baby sat and tutored young children.

I am 19 years old and haven't been living in the area for too long. I moved here a few years ago from a little town where I lived with my Dad and four of my six siblings.

I look forward to working with your child. My door is always open!
